

Andrew Bennett

World-Class Magician & Expert at Building Inspiring Organizations

A unique mix of business and life experiences has given Andrew Bennett valuable insight and compassion, enabling him to facilitate profound transformation in people and companies. Andrew spent ten years at former US presidential candidate, H. Ross Perot's company, EDS, where he held a variety of management positions, culminating in him ultimately growing an account from $5 million to $65 million in Australia in only two years.

For 25 years, he has been a leadership and organizational culture consultant and executive coach partnering with leaders building cultures where people can thrive. He has worked with over 120 organizations of all shapes and sizes all around the world, public and private, including government, education, healthcare, and non-profit, as well as Fortune 100 companies such as Ford Motor Company, Marriott, and GE Healthcare. Andrew has been involved in nearly 40 major culture revitalization projects with these clients over the last two decades. He is recognized for taking the time to really understand his client's business, culture, and challenges. He is gifted at building trust and credibility at all levels of an organization. This allows him to get to the root of issues to create customized solutions which have strong buy-in and lasting results.

A magician for nearly 50 years, Andrew is a member of London's Magic Circle, the oldest and most prestigious society of magicians in the world and the highest honor in magic. Members include David Copperfield, David Blaine, Johnny Carson and Cary Grant. Ross Perot encouraged Andrew to use magic in his business presentations, and he has been wowing audiences for the last 35 years. Magic is the art of transformation and it plays an important role in his inspirational speeches. Andrew uses magic to teach people how to rethink possibilities and obstacles, opening the door to new ways of thinking and acting.

Andrew's experience and results prove that the human mind and heart are sources of incredible power. He teaches managers and leaders how to create environments where innovation, resilience, and capacity for change thrives.

To book Andrew Bennett to speak at your next event, meeting or conference, please contact Leading Authorities Speakers Bureau or call 1-800-SPEAKER.

---