

Chris Gledhill

#1 Top Global Fintech Influencer

Chris Gledhill is generally recognized to be the world's top ranking authority on Fintech. He regularly delivers speeches and writes articles about digital banking, finance, and what lies ahead for financial institutions.

Chris was at the head of the Lloyds Banking Group innovation labs. He followed this by co-founding and working as CEO of the UK Challenger Bank Secco. Chris boasts a high-tech and corporate career history and speaks with expertise and eloquence on a vast range of so-called 'disruptive technologies'. These include AI, API, Big Data, Biometrics, Blockchain, CryptoCurrencies, Deep Learning, Mobiles, Virtual Reality, and Wearables.

Chris is on a crusade to reinvent the finance industry and takes pleasure in questioning the centuries old banking principles. He aims to constitute a digital banking system appropriate for the 21st century.

He blogs regularly and his Twitter account is hugely popular among financial professionals wanting to get all the latest news on Fintech's global expansion. Chris also wrote a book, Consumerization – the Enterprise Guide to BYOD and co-authored The Fintech Group.
