

Adger Brown

Comedian, After-Dinner Speaker, Charity Auctioneer

One of the South's leading and most sought after mainstream comedians. A veteran of the after-dinner circuit and a consummate professional. He has performed with many sports stars and celebrities at events up and down the country. Now in his 25th year in show-business, Adger works mainly on the corporate and sporting dinner circuit along with corporate and charity golf days. He is an active member of The Variety Club Golfing Society, A barker with The Variety Club of Great Britain and a proud member of the Grand Order of Water Rats.

Adger Brown is one of the most versatile comedians on the mainstream circuit of cabaret and variety. If you have a sense of humour then you must simply listen to Adger. Adger is a naturally funny man who can supply a stream of laughs on just about every topic while successfully raising funds in an auction.
