The Current Political and Legislative Environment. For more than two decades Charlie Cook has been a trusted and accurate voice on all things political, founding The Cook Political Report deemed by The New York Times as "a newsletter that both parties regard as authoritative." Using poll numbers, economic indicators, and historical data, Cook discusses today's political and legislative environments in a balanced, non-partisan way.

Election Forecasting. Editor and publisher of the independent, nonpartisan Cook Political Report, Charlie shares a "lay of the land" for upcoming elections, including what the key dynamics are driving and affecting the Democratic and Republican parties. He focuses on the implications of states' electoral leanings, what it all means during Presidential contests, what will likely happen in the House and Senate moving forward, and what the results mean for the two parties (and the American people). It's what audiences need to know to determine the outcome of the next election.

Ideal Political Pairing. Charlie Cook also engages in exciting point-counter-points with some of our other featured speakers. Among them, Stu Rothenberg provides a shrewd commentary on current political trends and hot-button issues, as he puts his own insight to work predicting the policy directions of the presidency. Book Cook to get a perceptive look at what lies ahead in politics; book him with Rothenberg to get two points of view on what policy decisions are forthcoming and what lies ahead for America. It's a pairing up of two of the most respected and experienced political analysts in the business, not from the left or the right or from the Republican or Democratic perspectives, but right down the middle.
