

David Wasserman

Senior Election Analyst, The Cook Political Report with Amy Walter and NBC Contributor

An Insider's Guide to the New Reality in DC. The 2022 midterms ushered in divided government on a knife's edge, with a 51-49 Democratic Senate and a narrowly Republican House that took 15 votes to elect a Speaker. So, what can we expect from the 118th Congress? With critical deadlines and elections looming, what will actually get done? Drawing on his extensive interactions with both leaders and new members, David Wasserman takes audiences on a tour of the current moment in an engaging, entertaining, and strictly nonpartisan presentation that he can tailor to his audience's interests. Using fascinating data, maps, and facts, Wasserman previews what it all means for 2024 and is sure to leave audiences of business leaders, grassroots advocates, and non-political junkies alike buzzing.

Road Map to the 2024 Election. Before we know it, the 2024 presidential election will be here. Does your audience need to know what trends are worth watching? In a lively, entertaining and strictly non-partisan presentation, David Wasserman cuts through the spin and offers a data-driven forecast of how upcoming elections might unfold. With Republicans at a critical primary fork in the road, who will win the nomination? Do Democrats have any hope of defending a 51-49 Senate majority or taking back a closely divided House? Wasserman draws on his extensive interviews with both parties' candidates and strategists to shed light on the top issues on voters' minds and even how retail habits — such as proximity to a Whole Foods Market or a Tractor Supply Company — can predict voting behavior.

---