

Monty Halls

Broadcaster, Explorer, TV Presenter, Leadership and Team Performance Specialist

Moving Forward in a Changing Landscape. Monty's new series follows the Halls family during their time living in the Galapagos in 2017. It looks at the challenges of business and community in the most iconic archipelago on earth.

This talk offers a chance for your organisation or event to address one of the key issues facing any business. How to evolve, adapt, and interact in a positive way with a rapidly changing economic landscape. With Brexit, potential trade wars, and tectonic change on the horizon, how do you stay focused, motivated, and yet maintain readiness to make the most of new opportunities as they emerge.

For twenty years Monty has been one of the most popular and engaging speakers in the UK. With the context of this new series, filmed in the home of evolutionary science, he explores how we must all evolve and adapt to not only survive, but also to prosper while others fall by the wayside.
