

Bakari Sellers

CNN Political Analyst & Former Representative from South Carolina

A Look Down the Political Pipeline.

Formerly one of the youngest African American elected official and currently a rising voice for the Democratic party, Bakari Sellers breaks down the day's top issues and offers candid commentary on the present political landscape. Addressing issues such as immigration, trade, and national security on major news outlets, Sellers analyzes the effect of the Trump Administration's various policy positions on our country's future. He also speaks to the evolution of the Democratic party, outlining potential avenues for growth post-election. An extremely passionate speaker, Sellers leaves audiences both informed and uplifted.

Leading Authorities, Inc. | 1-800-SPEAKER | www.leadingauthorities.com