

Sudip Bose

Leading Emergency Physician, Media Health Correspondent, and Former Army Physician

Desert Doc: Corporate Leadership Lessons from the Battlefield and Emergency Room. From the harsh deserts of Iraq to the deadly drylands of West Texas, I am an expert in emergency medicine stretched to the limits. With stories from my Prime Video series Desert Doc, I'll share key strategies for:

- How to divorce from emotion and project calm during chaotic situations
- "Fill the void" by being the voice of leadership
- Preparing for the worst and weathering the storm

Take Charge of Your Inner Army: Managing PTSD, Burnout, Anxiety & Stress in the Wake of Disaster. Adjusting to daily life after a global-scale crisis can be hard. Learn how to keep your inner army strong, for a more resilient future tomorrow.

- Exploring the physical and mental repercussions that are common post-crisis—and what to do about them
- Wellness strategies tailored to the corporate work and lifestyle
- Ideal for organizations looking to support employee mental health and build resilient teams

The Politics of Healthcare: Caring for Today's American Families for a Healthier Future. From my time in the ER to conversing directly with senators and other leaders on Capitol Hill, I'll share an on-the-ground perspective of the most prominent needs and solutions for healthcare reform today.

- How healthcare policies affect the everyday American
- Making the intricacies of politics and reform processes relatable and understandable
- Sharing innovative solutions to today's leading healthcare topics

Keeping Cities Safe in a Crisis: Forming a Preparedness and Response Plan for Confident Action. Learn the most effective protocols for preparing for and weathering disaster before it hits.

- How to coordinate multiagency teams for effective joint efforts during public health crises and mass casualty incidents
- Stories from the frontlines of orchestrating West Texas's emergency response during its most dire hours
- Ideal for state and local government teams, and for nonprofit emergency management and public health organizations

The Battle Continues: Honoring Our Soldiers and Carrying Forth the American Dream. I share the true experiences and trauma our veterans face, and how we can continue supporting them beyond their time in active duty.

- Tying the veteran experience and sacrifice to our everyday world
- Inspiring a new level of patriotism and pride for our country and soldiers
- Proceeds go to raise funds and awareness for injured combat veterans

Command Your Future: Leadership Beyond the Classroom. My university commencement speeches offer next generation leaders a motivational understanding of the "real world." I'll share my toughest battles to help our future leaders succeed.

- Dr. Bose uses his fellowship in teaching to share the most advanced adult learning techniques
- How to go from textbook knowledge to practical experience
- Tips on making great first impressions