

Thomas Bevan & Carl Cannon

Heads of RealClearPolitics

Tom Bevan is the co-founder and executive editor of RealClearPolitics. A political junkie, he writes regular features for the site and other top-tier publications and is frequently featured as a political analyst on Fox News, CNN, CNBC, the BBC. Bevan is also the co-author of The RealClearPolitics Political Download: Election 2012 and hosts weekly radio show on 89 WLS-AM in Chicago that provides in-depth analysis of politics and elections. In his presentations, he addresses politics and elections and offers the historical context of today's political events.

Carl Cannon is the Washington editor of RealClearPolitics and the former executive editor of PoliticsDaily. He has covered every presidential campaign and major political convention since 1984 and has received the two most prestigious awards for White House coverage – the Gerald R. Ford Prize for Distinguished Reporting of the Presidency and the Aldo Beckman award for “excellence in presidential news coverage.” He is also the author of six books, including the The RealClearPolitics Political Download: Election 2012. Cannon addresses politics and elections.