

Philippe Legrain

Writer, Thinker, Political Economist

The Global (or European) Macro and Political Outlook. Trump, trade wars, technological change, the rise of China and the travails of Brexit and the eurozone - we are living through a period of immense economic and political upheaval that is full of risks and opportunities. Go beyond the headlines and sales patter for key insights about the economic outlook - and the policies and politics that shape it - that are crucial to businesses and markets.

The Populist Peril. Brexit, Trump, Italy, possibly Corbyn. Why are voters rejecting the established order? How big a threat do populist policies and politics pose to businesses, markets, the EU and even liberal democracy? Can populism be vanquished?

The Diversity Dividend. Diversity is about much more than equal opportunities; it can be a key asset for your business or organisation, not to mention society as a whole. Find out how having a diverse team can boost your bottom line - and what you need to do to manage the challenges of diversity and make the most of its opportunities.