Covering the Courts: The Convergence of Law & Media in Today's Highest Profile Cases Join keynote speaker and Good Morning America legal analyst Dan Abrams as he gives an insider's view of today's hottest cases and the media's effect on them. Jodi Arias, Casey Anthony, Amanda Knox—these are names that we know only because the media decided their trials were newsworthy. How did the attention these cases received affect their outcomes and the general perception of justice in the courts? How has media coverage of legal cases evolved over time? As a lawyer and media insider, Dan Abrams brings a unique and dynamic perspective to this topic. Don't miss his fascinating discussion of the media's impact on how we view the legal system and today's headline cases.
