Dasha Burns

POLITICO Playbook Co-Author, Host of “The Conversation,” and Global Anchor

Politics and America Today: Decoding Current Events. In an era where political fault lines shape markets, leadership, and public trust, Dasha Burns translates the fast-moving landscape of American politics into clear implications for businesses, communities, and everyday people. Drawing on her on-the-ground reporting on Washington and in-depth interviews with key players, she breaks down how shifts in power and policy are reshaping the country’s economic and social fabric. As the midterms approach and parties recalibrate their strategies, Burns offers audiences a nuanced perspective into the road ahead.
