

Steve Durcan

Operational Performance Consultant at the McLaren F1 team and Arsenal Football Club

Organisational Change and High-Performance Transformation Navigating change by aligning strategy, leadership and culture to drive clarity, adaptability and sustained high performance.

Engineering the Comeback; back of the grid to world leaders The hidden architecture behind high-performance transformation. Learn how elite teams rewire communication, decision-making, and alignment to cut through the noise and turn underperformance into sustained competitive advantage.

Operational Excellence How fighter pilots and championship-winning teams prepare, align, and deliver under pressure – embedding feedback, high standards, and relentless improvement to outperform the competition.

Mission-Ready Leadership How to create clarity in complexity, make decisive calls under pressure, and build a culture that wins, consistently and by design.

Digital Transformation - The human in the loop advantage In a world defined by AI and automation, the greatest competitive edge is still human. Discover how elite teams integrate technology with judgment, alignment, and decisive leadership to outperform in complex, rapidly changing environments.