

Thomas Bevan

Co-Founder and Executive Editor of RealClearPolitics

Politics & Our Upcoming Elections. As the leader of one of the preeminent political news sources in Washington, DC, Tom Bevan offers his own signature brand of political analysis. In presentations featuring the acclaimed RealClearPolitics polling average, he details what is happening in Washington and on Capitol Hill, complete with election forecasting and detailed statistical analysis. Bevan also incorporates insights gleaned from the three-part book about the 2012 election he co-authored with RCP's Carl Cannon. A political junkie, Bevan offers the historical context of today's political events so that his audience can get a better understanding of why events are playing out in Washington the way they are. With unsurpassed access to the White House, candidates, and their respective staffs, Bevan gives his audience a riveting behind-the-scenes, real-time look at politics. He provides in-depth reporting and analysis, and his presentations are full of up-to-the-minute news-breaking material. Bevan gives an insider's perspective on the key political moments and issues, as well as a careful survey of the terrain ahead for the next elections, making him a must-see expert for those who want to truly understand the political environment.
