

Stephanie Cutter & Nicole Wallace

White House Insiders, Media Veterans

POLITICO called Stephanie Cutter “one of the most prominent voices in the [Democratic] party, and one of its top strategists and crisis managers” and GQ named her one of the “50 Most Powerful People in Washington.” She is a frequent face on CNN and has crafted messages for President and First Lady Obama, Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor, Treasury Secretary Tim Geithner, President Bill Clinton, and Senators Harry Reid, Edward M. Kennedy, and John Kerry (during his presidential campaign). From the halls of Congress to the campaign trail and from the West Wing to the C-Suite, she is one of the foremost experts at weaving together political strategies to create a narrative that resonates with voters.

Nicole Wallace is a best-selling author, a co-host on ABC’s The View, a top strategist for the GOP, and the former special assistant to the president and director of media affairs at the White House under President George W. Bush. Her White House colleague, presidential political advisor Mark McKinnon, called her a “rare talent in politics.” Funny and charming, she shares stories from her time in the White House, on the campaign trail with Sarah Palin, and from the studios at MSNBC. Wallace is a master storyteller as she offers audiences the rundown they need to stay in the know.
