Bill Weir

CNN Anchor, Chief Climate Correspondent & Host of "The Wonder List with Bill Weir"

Find Your Wonder List Bill Weir takes audiences from New York to Bhutan to Greece to the Okavango Delta and back again with riveting stories, dynamic visuals, and anecdotal insights that hit at the heart of some of today's big political, economic, and social uncertainties. This customizable talk inspires audiences to find their own "Wonder List" as Weir shares the questions keeping him up at night—including whether there will be glaciers left in 50 years or why people in certain areas of the world live longer—as well as the journeys he has taken to get to the bottom of them. A treat for audiences in both content and style, Weir's presentations draw on videos and photos from his hit show to illustrate the stirring truisms gleaned from his reporting all around the world.
