Bryce Kenny

Monster Jam Driver, Guinness World Record-Setter, Author of Geared for Life, and Former C-Suite Executive Recruiter

Geared to Win Driving a 1500 hp, 12,000-pound monster truck and doing leaps 30 feet in the air will take you out of your comfort zone. It's intense, thrilling, and dangerous. Drivers never know how the truck's going to react when it lands. That's why millions of fans fill the world's biggest stadiums to watch. One of the stars of Monster Jam, Bryce Kenny, is well-accustomed to being outside his comfort zone. He learned fast that winning individuals and teams spend more time there than the competition. They recognize change is constant and they're prepared and resilient shifting their approach to maintain traction. That describes today's business environment. Bryce brings the sights and sounds of Monster Jam to the stage in this high-energy, highly customized keynote. He combines extraordinary behind-the-scenes stories and video from Monster Jam with his business experience as a C-suite recruiter for Fortune 500 firms. He inspires audiences with his G.E.A.R. (Growth, Engagement, Acceleration, and Risk) framework which gives them a memorable method to challenge assumptions, increase commitment, shorten the distance between discussion and action, and create urgency around the decisions that matter most. All in service of achieving monstrous results. Key Takeaways: Recognize what's holding you and your team back. Learn how to push beyond comfort zones, invest in the right things, and develop the mindset needed to reach the next level of performance. Understand what it means to go all in. Learn how better decisions, stronger commitment, and shared accountability help teams work together and achieve more. Turn setbacks into momentum. Learn how to move through challenges, shorten the gap between decisions and action, and keep moving forward when things don't go as planned. Discover what's really at stake. Connect individual efforts to a bigger purpose, recognize the cost of standing still, and create the motivation to achieve results that matter.