Jake Tapper

Award-Winning Journalist; Anchor and Chief Washington Correspondent, CNN

Jake Tapper's "State of the Union Jake Tapper is renowned for his up-to-the-minute reporting and fair-and-balanced commentary. A regular newsmaker whose interviews are cited endlessly, Tapper spares no one on the air, in debates, and on panels, scrutinizing political leaders and even his fellow media reporters. His speeches dissect the biggest issues of the day with hard-hitting questions and a large, healthy dose of journalistic skepticism. With his "State of the Union," Tapper looks at the stories driving our daily conversations and offers his expert analysis and predictions for the future. A journalist who has won the most prestigious print, online, and broadcast awards for his reporting, Tapper is not afraid to "go there," using his campaign and insider access to illuminate what's at stake, what's driving public policy, and what it all means for the future of American politics.
