Josh Earnest

Former White House Press Secretary, Chief Communications Officer for United Airlines, & Well-Known Political Commentator

Managing Through Change: How Corporate America has Been Reshaped in the Post-Pandemic Era As former White House Press Secretary, Josh Earnest leveraged his unique experience on the frontlines of high-profile national security and political crises to guide United Airlines through the most disruptive crisis the commercial airline industry has ever faced, and has since led the airline's mobilization and reemergence amid the challenges and disruption of the pandemic. In this talk, Earnest, who serves on United's executive team as the chief communications officer, shares his strategies for successfully navigating United's business during a time of unprecedented crisis, along with insights on how they and other smart business leaders will carry this momentum into the post-pandemic world. Audiences will walk away with a new perspective on how their companies and organizations can effectively navigate the shifting strategic terrain and reposition themselves for success in the evolving business landscape.

Shining A Light On Today's Top Issues Sought-after commentator and Washington insider Josh Earnest offers his engaging and honest analysis of the current (and future) political landscape. Constantly in-demand for his spot-on insights into today's top issues and unique perspective on life in the White House, Earnest showcases his tremendous breadth of experience and sharp wit at every engagement. Often interviewed by popular TV hosts including Seth Meyers and Stephen Colbert, Earnest is a true pro who brings relevance, insight, and humor to every issue. He is a go-to voice, unafraid to provide frank commentary that takes a critical look at both sides of the aisle. Earnest is a powerhouse political speaker that keeps Q&A going for hours.