

Nancy Hungerford

Former CNBC Anchor, Conference Moderator, Discussion Leader, Emcee, Host

Panel Moderator, Discussion Leader, Emcee, Host Nancy Hungerford's skills as a moderator and host were honed over a decade-long career at CNBC, where she served as an anchor for the network's award-winning programs in London and Singapore. Nancy's experience shines through in her ability to engage audiences and guide panels through complex topics with a global reach. Throughout her career, Nancy has interviewed world leaders and CEOs from events including, the World Economic Forum in Davos, the G20 Summit in Japan and the IMF and World Bank meetings in Bali. She has led television coverage and moderated conversations from premier tech conferences as well, including: Money2020 in Copenhagen, the Singapore FinTech Festival and VivaTech in Paris. Raised in Detroit, Nancy feels at home discussing all things auto related. She began her on-air career at the Geneva Motor Show and led coverage of the Volkswagen scandal from Germany.