

Ross Neal

Elite Performance, Leadership & Team Culture

What Really Makes a High-Performing Team? Talent only gets you so far. Ross reveals how culture, environment and leadership create teams that consistently perform under pressure.

The Performance Gap: Why Good Teams Don't Always Win Drawing on elite sport and business, Ross explores the hidden factors that separate teams that perform from those that simply have potential.

Pressure, Performance & the Human Edge What can business leaders learn from elite athletes about performing when the stakes are high? Ross shares practical strategies for thriving under pressure.

From Culture to Commercial Results Culture isn't just a people issue – it directly impacts performance. Ross shows how the right environment can improve retention, ramp time and revenue per head.