

Ruth Hunt

Former CEO and Director of Campaigns at Stonewall

Inclusive Leadership in Practice Ruth explores what truly inclusive leadership looks like and how organisations can create cultures where people feel valued, heard and able to thrive.

Creating Cultures That Work Drawing on her experience in politics, advocacy and organisational leadership, Ruth shares practical insights into building stronger, more effective workplace cultures.

Courageous Conversations A thoughtful exploration of how organisations can approach difficult conversations around identity, inclusion and culture with confidence and empathy.

Leading Through Change An honest and engaging look at how leaders can navigate uncertainty, drive meaningful change and bring people with them through periods of transformation.